Nonprofit OneOC Announces New Board Members

Santa Ana, California, March 8, 2016— OneOC has announced the newest members of the Santa Ana-based nonprofit's 2016 volunteer Board of Directors. OneOC board members draw on decades of skill, experience and talent to profitably guide OneOC policy and programs to address Orange County's most crucial community needs. Their core competencies span the technology, human resources, financial services, news, higher education and social services industries. Their leadership skills expand community engagement and entrepreneurship,

This well-rounded "think tank" identifies strengths, weaknesses and opportunities in the business environment and climate. Board member analyses insure that OneOC's cutting edge, integrated, extensive "umbrella" of services and educational programs will continue to grow and evolve. The benefit of the board's vision, expertise and insight is also seen through OneOC's adaptation of their ideas to smart, easy and impactful solutions that train, mobilize, equip and match volunteers so businesses and nonprofits may reach their individual and community goals.

The newly elected directors are Melyssa Banda, Senior Director, Marketing Communications, Western Digital; Sherry Benjamins, President, S. Benjamins & Company; Peter Duncan, Partner/EVP, Sidles Duncan & Association/HUB International; Paul Feuerborn, Director of Projects & Technology, Capital Group/American Funds; Tallia Hart, President & CEO, Irvine Chamber of Commerce; and Pam Hedges, President, Hedges & Associates.

The list continues with John Hogan, President & CEO, Hall & Foreman; Kate Klimow, Assistant Vice Chancellor & Government Relations, UCI; Joseph Mishriki, Senior Vice President, Wells Fargo; Richard E. Mirman, CEO & Publisher, Freedom Communications, Inc./OC Register; and Kathy Quintana, Executive Vice President, HUB International Insurance.

Daniel J. McQuaid, OneOC's President and CEO said, "We are thankful for those members who completed their terms and salute our returning and new directors who are dedicated to helping OneOC deliver on our mission to accelerate nonprofit success. They have strong expertise and relationships in the corporate and nonprofit sectors and are passionate about building an even stronger and more vibrant Orange County."
